Access to other discounted services available.

At HCR we have a national reach, so we can help you with your case wherever you're based. We also have a local office in Cardiff should you need to see us there.

I specialise in all aspects of family law, and over the years I have advised many police officers and police force employees on a variety of family related issues, including financial settlements where pensions are a key feature within a divorce.

By taking the time to understand your needs, I will make your situation as stress-free and cost effective as possible. You will have direct contact with me, and I will respond to your queries within 24 hours.
